Tnnamed Unit Of Troops Are Directly
Behind The British Lines And Two
Hit By Shell Fragments

TWO WOUNDED MEN PROUDEST IN CAMP

By Wm. Philip Simms

With The British Armies In The Field, Sept. 24.—American troops for the first time are under the German fire in France. Two American soldiers have been slightly wounded. They were struck by flying fragments of a bomb shell. A certain contingent of the American army is now located directly behind the British lines. They are within locating of the enemy guns. The two wounded men are the proudest men at the camp which I visited Sunday.

The eyes of this American contingent are turned longingly to the British lines. The Sammies work within hearing of the bombarding of cannons all day long. They listen enviously to the stories of the Tommies of "going over the top." The Sammies are very eager to fight and there is rigid restriction with severe punishment to prevent them from going to the front under the chaperonage of the Tommies.

Washington, D. C., September 24.—First news of the two American soldiers injured while their contingent was under German fire in France was received at the war department through press dispatches of the United Press through their correspondent Wm. Philip Simms today.

Close Range Tale of Fighting In Flanders

Simms Tells of the Wonderful and
Awful Spectacle of Warfare

By William Philip Simms
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The British Armies In The Field, Sept. 24.—(By Mail)—From the windows of the cottage where this is written I can see the actual stabs of fire from the muzzles of guns along 62 miles of front. On the left I can see the Armentieres to Lens. Below Lens, Notre Dame de Lorette and Vimy Ridge shut out the remainder of the British lines.

From the left window, on clear days, I can see the sand dunes along the seacoast. Furnes is plainly visible and beyond, with field glasses, the very windows of the Casino and Grand Hotel at Ostend are as plain as day. Shells bursting along the bathing beach, where stretches of barbed wire now run, are distinctly seen while with the naked eye I have counted not only 23 British observation balloons along the fringe of the fighting, but 11 German balloons as well.

People say "flat as a flounder." A better expression would be "flat as Flanders." For a flounder occupied very little territory. Flanders stretches away in all directions, with appalling flatness, the only relief being three or four hillocks which rise like pinacles from an otherwise smooth surface. My cottage sits on top of one of the hillocks. Below me stretches more than half of the entire British front.

The spectacle at night heats any Fourth of July celebration ever seen in the United States. And if the wind is right, the noise lays in the shade the unsafest and unsuited. Fourth Young America ever perpetrated. Flares rise against the sky like as many red and white shooting stars along the whole horizon. Here and there, in this red glow, great fountains of flame and light, of brilliant yellow, leap like sheet lightning to the very top of the heavens. These are the bursts of heavy howitzer shells. The thicker, the brighter, the smaller flares are British guns huffing steel at the foe to the east. Now and then a slow burning stab of flame leaps out and the whole world seems on fire. My room perhaps twelve miles away, is then so brightly lighted that book print is quite readable without other lighting than that furnished by Armageddon. These bright lights come from the bursting of oil drums, or boiling oil (in reality liquid fire) which the British are using to punish the originators of frightfulness. The Germans, having originated and tried every devil's device, a cruelly cunning brain could conceive, are now getting paid back in their own coin.

Sky rockets go into the air like a Payne's fireworks final, bursting into many colors. Aeroplanes, whose eternal zooming goes on in the night as well as day, add to the show dropping their "flaming onions" as their signal fires are called, and from the ground balls of fire leap into the air in answer.

Behind the German lines search-lights are playing. There are tens of them, their brilliant shafts interlacing and chiss-crossing, reaching what appears to be the dome of heaven, there splashing out like a stream of gold fluid projected from a fireman's nozzle against a lofty ceiling.

When there are clouds the effect is perhaps enhanced. The cold banks catch, and reflect the score of competing lights and colors, making the war a beautiful thing—from a distance.

Properly stage managed, my little room in this little Flemish cottage, might bring a fortune. Man's greatest spectacle keeps on and on, in a continuous performance—is blazing away for all it is worth even as I write these lines on my little typewriter—yet no amount of gold could buy a seat in this room.

Outside the window at my right I hear voices.

The two old folks who own the cottage and who let me use one of the rooms are talking.

Overhead, aeroplanes are buzzing. In the middle distance rockets are answering the "flaming onions" dropped by the war planes.

On the skyline all the fireworks in the world seem concentrated, the glow now and then making the wrinkled faces of the old man and woman stand out in the dark night.

"It's time we're gettin' in the potatoes," the old man is saying. "This rain ain't any too good for 'em s' long as they ain't in the ground."

And the old lady responded sympathetically:

"Them potato bugs are getting mighty bad too."

HOUSE IN UPROAR WHEN MEMBER CHARGES $50,000 BERNSTORFF FUND WAS USED IN THE HOUSE

Explanation Demanded Of Congressman
Heflin, Who Asserted Some Member
Might Have Been Interested In Fund

BODY DEMANDS PROOF OF CHARGE

Washington, Sept. 24.—Aroused by charges of dishonesty on the part of its members, the House today burst into heated debate following Representative Heflin's assertion that some representatives might have been interested in the Bernstorff flood fund.

Representative Norton demanded an explanation from Heflin. "You are worse than a pacifist or a traitor, you who dare to corrupt this body and create disbelief in this government," declared Norton. The House burst into applause. "If the charge should be true," said Norton, "no punishment will be too severe for the members. If it is false no apology that you can make will be sufficient. If the charge cannot be sustained nothing will win back the confidence of the people." The House burst into loud cheering. Speaker Clark hammered vigorously for order.

When Heflin started to explain a half dozen members rose to their feet with the pointed query "did you or did you not make such a statement to the press?" "I didn't make it to the press, I made it in the lobby," said Heflin. The House roared. "I said it in the lobby before some German spys. There are spys all around me here."

Representative Moore of Pennsylvania shouted "name the spys." "I didn't mean any spys on the floor. They are in the galleries."

Heflin appealed to Clark saying they were not fairly treating him.

Representative Fordney of Mich., introduced a resolution demanding that Heflin prove his charges.

SPREAD DEADLY GERMS ORDER OF TEUTONS

Our Government Hints That
Germany Has Been Trying To
Use That Method In U. S.

THE ROUMANIA CASE PROVED

By Carl D. Groat
Washington Sept. 24.—Germany will be convicted further before the end of this week is over to a charge of high handed intrigue against the peace of other nations with revelations over Sunday of Teuton bombs and poison candy being dropped in Roumania.

Government authorities hinted that it will be shown that the Teutons have been trying to spread disease in America as one of the insidious means of hampering war preparations.

The plot in Roumania shows that the Teutons planted bombs in the legation gardens at Bucharest after the United States had taken charge and also spread germs to poison horses.

Similarly the Teutons may have found the germs of lock jaw in court plaster recently found in the United States to be effective. The Senate has promised an expose of the treacherous German work to create anti-American feeling in Japan and anti-Japan feeling in this country. Count Isisi now in the United States with the Japanese mission has hinted at such an intrigue.

Argentine Receives German Explanation

Believe It Will Deter Southern Republic
From Declaring War

By Charles P. Stewart
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 24.—For the immediate present at least, Argentina's determination to declare war on Germany is to be held in abeyance. Government officials today accepted "as a temporary satisfaction" a message from the Berlin government disavowing Count Luxburg's utterances and denying that the Kaiser approved of Luxburg personally. The fact was emphasized, however, that this disavowal is not the full, free and formal reply demanded by the Argentine ultimatum. Its receipt, however, stops the Chamber of Deputies' immediate consideration of the government's plan for a declaration of a state of war with Germany. Public interest was transferred from the German situation today to the pressing crisis of a nation wide strike.

At 1 a. m. today all railroad employees struck.

HOUTZDALE WAS MECCA FOR THE BASEBALL FAN

Sunday Game For the Soldiers'
Fund Attracts Immense But
Quiet, Orderly Crowd

BLUE LAW FINES ARE IMPOSED

That Sunday baseball would be a popular pastime in the Houtzdale region were the Pennsylvania statutes different, was thoroughly demonstrated yesterday by the immense crowds which thronged this one-time coal region metropolis to witness the exhibition game scheduled between the Pittsburgh National league team, with the grand old man of baseball, Honus Wagner, in the line-up, and a team of Houtzdale boys.

The game was arranged for by some of Houtzdale's energetic citizens as a means for providing funds for the soldiers' library and tobacco fund, and judging from the crowd which thronged the park and gave up one dollar each as an admission fee, they had the right idea, so far as the means to the end was concerned.

When the game was first advertised, following permission from the borough authorities to stage the game, some of the religiously inclined people of the community believing that six days in the week were sufficient for baseball, and that the game would result in desecration of the Sabbath day, took steps to stop it. An injunction was asked for, but Judge Bell held the subject was one for the Attorney General to pass upon on behalf of the State, rather than a problem for local authorities, and when the matter was put up to him by the District Attorney at the request of the objectors, told their attorney what was necessary in the premises from his view of the law.

The Attorney General was interviewed, but instead of getting into the case as the Court directed he should, decided the local authorities should handle the matter and deputized the District Attorney by telegraph to appear at the hearing. When the District Attorney attempted to act at the hearing, objection was made by the attorney for the promoters of the game and Judge Bell, sustaining the objection, the case fell and the game was allowed to proceed.

It was estimated by those in attendance that more than thirty-five hundred people witnessed the game, about two-thirds of that number giving up one dollar per head to get inside the park fence, while the remainder viewed it from adjoining buildings and the nearby hillsides.

The "Flying Dutchman," as Hans Wagner is known to the fans of two generations, was the main attraction, and his loyal worshippers began to arrive at the ball park at 11 o'clock a. m. in order to be sure of a sight of the great man. The game was scheduled for 3 o'clock and by that time the park was a mass of surging humanity, while almost every street in the town was lined with automobiles in which they travelled. A special train on the Allegheny River Railroad added five car loads of fans to the crowd.

The huge crowd was exceptionally quiet and orderly, not a cheer or loud word being heard inside or outside the enclosure. When the Pittsburgh team marched onto the field headed by the reliable Wagner, a subdued murmur of applause convulsed the assemblage. The teams engaged in brief practice and just before time to start arrived all hands were summoned to the centre of the diamond, where a few brief laudatory sentences. Burgess Saupp presented Wagner with a huge silver loving cup, the gift of the Houtzdale admirers of the King of the ball. Wagner made a brief response and the cup was turned over to Paddy Quinn and Harry

Public Service Board Of State To Hear C. of C. Complaint

Public Hearing In Court House September 28th On Matter Of River Line
"Mixed Train" Service

STATION COMPLAINT ALSO TO BE AID

Patrons of the River Line mixed train service are to be afforded a means of possible relief on Friday, September 28th, at nine a. m. when the Public Service Commission of the State of Pennsylvania will sit at the Clearfield Court House to hear complaints of the Clearfield Chapter of Commerce and individuals who believe that the railroad company has unreasonably discriminated against the traveling public in the matter of taking off the regular passenger train on the River Line.

President W. I. Betts is very busy this week subpoenaing witnesses to support the claim that the service is inadequate and unreliable to those of Clearfield having interests down the river and likewise those who live in the vicinity and endure the hardships of uncertain time of arrival of trains. In addition to those on whom subpoenas are served it is desired that as many of the River Line people as possible be present at the hearing. The hearing will be open to all and while it is not yet known whether the Commission entire will be here it is certain that testimony will be taken by a Commissioner and some finding made.

The matter of a new station will also be taken up on September 28th. Separate complaints have been filed in each case and it is expected that every organization in Clearfield will be present to press our claim for a passenger station commensurate with the needs and requirements of our city.

McInteer, two former Houtzdale boys, now successful Pittsburgh business men, who accompanied the team back home, who acted as a guard of honor for the memento.

The game was started promptly at 3 o'clock and full nine innings were played, the final score being Pittsburgh 13; Houtzdale 1.

The crowd present at the game was surely cosmopolitan in character, and embraced doctors, lawyers, manufacturers, miners, mechanics, railroad men, and even editors. Almost every town and hamlet in Clearfield, Centre and Cambria counties was represented and all appeared to be enjoying themselves.

The game was played under a contract which provided that the Pittsburgh team should receive sixty per cent of the gross proceeds, while the promoters of the game received the remaining forty per cent.

The Progress is informed that after the necessary expenses are paid the total sum remaining will be turned over by the committee in charge to the soldiers' library and tobacco fund. As this committee is made up of the leading and most reliable citizens of the town there can be no question as to the truth of this statement. The managers also stated that it was their purpose to publish a detailed, itemized statement of the receipts and expenditures following their settlement. The business manager of the Pittsburgh team stated that he had three other Sunday games scheduled for as many different sections of Pennsylvania before the season closed.

The good people opposed to Sunday baseball and every other form of worldly amusement on the Lord's day propose to continue their fight against this game and two of the ministers of Houtzdale who were at the hearing in Court Saturday were at the grounds getting evidence on which to base a prosecution. They purchased tickets for the game but did not go inside, notifying the ticket seller when they bought the tickets that they intended using the transaction against them.

They made information against every man on the two teams for violation of the Sunday or old "blue law" and the fines were paid to Justice Harpster at the time of a hearing this afternoon.

We noticed in the Philadelphia papers this morning that the Athletics and a team of U. S. Marines played a Sunday game yesterday at Philadelphia before a crowd of 6000 people.

News of the Day Culled From Various Sources

N. A. GUNMAN SEEN IN DEUTSCH AUTO ON PRIMARY DAY

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—A photograph of a man in a dark suit, who was seen in a Deutch automobile on primary day in New York, as having been seen with Isaac Deutch, a leader, and Eddy Abrams, a constable.

Two of the men arrested Saturday morning in New York were positively identified by Philadelphia policemen as having been members of the "murder party."

Captain of Detectives Wines, of the Bronx, believes that Ruggiero Falcone was the man who rounded up the election thugs.

The "Hotel Benny," at 159 North Ninth street, conducted by "Beany" Cutler, was the home of the Bronx "murder squad" while it operated in this city.

Special Policeman Wirtzsch, who has been commissioned by Captain Tate of the Detective Bureau, was named by ex-Judge Gordon as a member of the "gang" which on Tuesday evening raided the Finletter Club. Lieutenant Bennett was charged with standing outside the club as thugs rioted within.

A Sixth Avenue politician, James Clark, was identified as the "man with the eyeglasses," described by one of the gunmen as the man "who pointed out" James A. Carey.

The hearing in the case of Mayor Smith and others, charged with conspiracy to commit murder, has been postponed from tomorrow until Tuesday of next week.

Ministers and leading citizens are organizing to "clean up" conditions in the "Bloody Fifth" Ward. Plans are being perfected for the massing of the Academy of Music on Thursday evening. Leaders in the movement emphatically assert that they will continue the fight until the ward is purified.

From the pulpits of the First Presbyterian Church of Germantown and the Old Pine Street Presbyterian church the municipal scandal was denounced.

Assistant District Attorney Taulano and Philadelphia witnesses went to New York to establish the identification of gangsters held there for extradition this morning.

Charges of murder in the first degree are expected to be filed against two of the men under arrest today.

Mercantile Appraiser Carey was reported as in a critical condition, with a possible fracture of the skull.

LA FOLLETTE CALLED "AMERICAN UHLAN"

Wisconsin Senator, With Stone and Gronna, Called as "Real Field Marshals of Germany"

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Senators La Follette, Stone and Gronna were characterized as the "real field marshals of Germany" by Charles Edward Russell, of New York, who spoke here last night. Mr. Russell was a member of the United States commission that recently visited Russia.

"There is an element at work now to undermine your Republic and throw victory to the enemy," he said. "At this moment there arises a band of men who call themselves Americans, who are ready to fight on the side of autocracy; not openly, but from behind their established place in the United States Senate."

"Thursday night in St. Paul La Follette characterized such things as the sinking of the Lusitania as 'technical offenses.' Tomorrow afternoon every one of his words will be repeated on the field of Mars, in Petrograd by fifty speakers."

"They will say 'the United States wants peace. America is out of the fight. A United States Senator has said so, and it must be true. The thing for you to do is to make a separate peace with Germany.'"

"They don't know that this man this United States Senator, is simply a big yellow streak."

EXPLOSIVES AND GERMS IN GERMAN LEGATION

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—Fifty high explosive cartridges, together with fulminate of mercury fuses and percussion caps attached, are found in the garden of the German legation at Bucharest, Rumania, having been secreted while American diplomats were caring for German affairs there.

The same investigation also reveals a box of six cultures of anthrax and glanders germs, together with instructions to German agents to use them on the cattle and horses and report on the "success." Each culture is sufficient for 200 animals.

Revelation of this plot by the State Department indicates that the United States Government will conduct a "pitiless publicity" of German acts to educate the pacifist and war deities in America.

Liebold has batted only .243.

HOW A RAILROAD EARNS A DOLLAR

If a drayman charged you fifty cents for carting a ton of freight one mile from the railroad to your residence or place of business, you would not accuse the man of being exorbitant in his charges and refuse to pay him unless he reduced the amount.

Knowing that a ton is quite a load, and that the drayman's expenses have increased in the same ratio as your own, you would consider his charge extremely reasonable and, perhaps, hand him an extra dime or a good deal as evidence of your satisfaction.

Now, as the freight was carted from the depot, it was evidently hauled there by the railroad, and, wishing to learn how much the railroad company received from the shipment, we quickly ascertain from the company's statistics that the average rate for hauling a ton one mile is a trifle less than one-half of one cent, or the one hundredth part of what the drayman received.

For that dime which you may have given to the drayman, the railroad hauls a ton twenty miles, or further than from Rochester to Munford, for the price of a dollar but, the railroad hauls a ton two hundred miles, or from Rochester, N. Y., to DuBois, Pa.; and for the amount paid for a fifteen-dollar ready-made suit of clothes, the shipment was hauled three thousand miles, or nearly across the continent—Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railway Employees' Magazine.

A NEW VIEWPOINT.

We are largely creatures of our philosophy of life, our outlook, our habits of thought.

There is nothing so helpful as a whole and sane view. Such a view may be capable of revolutionizing one's whole life. If we are truly converted to the optimistic philosophy, if we feel that the universe is good, that we are immortal entities in this universe, that our destiny lies in our own hands, that we are free to choose the best, that there is nothing so powerful as right, that we can rest with perfect faith on the never-changing law, that there is a being of truth and love over all, if we are once truly converted to this viewpoint how much easier everything becomes.

And if we think deeply enough we shall see clearly that no other interpretation of the universe is possible.

This is the foundation of all right thinking. It is also the beginning of harmony of mind and body, of health and of success. It banishes fear. It is a cure for delusions and obsessions. It broadens and strengthens. It builds character. It puts us in right relations to our fellows. It gives us confidence and moral backbone.

There is nothing like standing on a rock foundation of principle. James A. Edgerly in Nauticus.

Quarrels.

If there happens a misunderstanding, a quarrel and these things do come to every human being, I shall face the facts and be just. I shall not childishly slam a door on an explanation. That happens in books sometimes in order to help along the plot a hundred pages or so. In life every moment of happiness counts. Our time here is so very, very short.

Careful About His Grave

A Pittsburgh man has just recently referred to a "flowerless burial plot" and gave directions for a brick and cement grave where no flowers or plants are ever to be grown. He made provision for $7 a year for watering grass, which is to be allowed on the grave, and directed that the fence about the plot be painted with a certain kind of "conium" paint, applied with a camel's brush.—Exchange.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE IN DIVORCE

vs.
EDNA SEIFERT

In the Court of Common Pleas of Clearfield County, Pennsylvania
No. 166 September Term 1917
LIBEL IN DIVORCE

To Edna Seifert:
Madam:—You are hereby notified that at a session of the above court, I was appointed a Commissioner, to hear and take the depositions of the parties interested and their witnesses in the above cited case and report to the said Court with the form of decrees.

You might as well have the use of that building you are planning—there is nothing to be gained by waiting. There is no prospect of prices going down for some time after the war is over. Go ahead and let your contracts.

When it comes to the roof you can make a real saving, and get a better roof by specifying

Certain-teed Roofing

CERTAIN-TEED is not cheaper because the quality is lower, but because it is a less expensive roofing to manufacture. It is better, not only because it is cheaper, but also because it is lighter weight, weather-tight, clean, sanitary, fire-retardant and costs practically nothing to maintain.

It is now recognized as the preferable type of roofing for office buildings, factories, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings etc., where durability is necessary.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply).

There are many roll roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

Certain-teed Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplanting wood and slate shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire-retardant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are the best quality paint materials, ground and mixed with mechanical accuracy. Made for all uses and in all colors. With paint, as with roofing, the name CERTAIN-TEED is a guarantee of quality and satisfaction.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER INJURED IN HEAD-ON AUTOMOBILE COLLISION

As the result of a head-on collision between two automobiles on the Reynoldsville road yesterday afternoon J. F. Powell and daughter, of Clarion, spent last evening in the DuBois hospital. Neither one was injured seriously, but both were bruised and cut and it was determined to keep them in the hospital until today. The two automobiles involved in the wreck were those belonging to H. L. McIntyre, of Reynoldsville and J. F. Powell, of Clarion.

The two machines were rounding a curve at the time and without any warning crashed into each other head-on. Both were moving at a pretty fair rate of speed at the time and Mr. Powell and his daughter, who were in the lighter car and going down hill, were thrown forward, both being cut about the face and head on the windshield. Mr. Powell sustained several severe shocks, while Mrs. Powell had a long gash cut on her face.

Both Machines were put out of commission and Mr. Powell and his daughter were hurried to the hospital in a car that came along. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, the occupants of the other car, were unharmed, although both were thrown around.

The Powells were on their way home from Clarion after a visit with relatives when the accident occurred.

John L. Perot filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office Saturday in which he asks for a divorce from his wife, Ellen Perot, alias Ellen Farley. He recites that he was married to the woman on March 15, 1905, but that she would not live with him. Then on July 17th, 1912, she married George W. Farley without going to the trouble of getting a divorce from Perot, hence his desire to rid himself of the matrimonial harness.

First Detachment Of U.S. Soldiers Under German's Fire

Tnnamed Unit Of Troops Are Directly
Behind The British Lines And Two
Hit By Shell Fragments

TWO WOUNDED MEN PROUDEST IN CAMP

By Wm. Philip Simms

With The British Armies In The Field, Sept. 24.—American troops for the first time are under the German fire in France. Two American soldiers have been slightly wounded. They were struck by flying fragments of a bomb shell. A certain contingent of the American army is now located directly behind the British lines. They are within locating of the enemy guns. The two wounded men are the proudest men at the camp which I visited Sunday.

The eyes of this American contingent are turned longingly to the British lines. The Sammies work within hearing of the bombarding of cannons all day long. They listen enviously to the stories of the Tommies of "going over the top." The Sammies are very eager to fight and there is rigid restriction with severe punishment to prevent them from going to the front under the chaperonage of the Tommies.

Washington, D. C., September 24.—First news of the two American soldiers injured while their contingent was under German fire in France was received at the war department through press dispatches of the United Press through their correspondent Wm. Philip Simms today.

News of the casualty brought eager anticipation to military officers here

Close Range Tale of Fighting In Flanders

Simms Tells of the Wonderful and
Awful Spectacle of Warfare

By William Philip Simms
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The British Armies In The Field, Sept. 24.—(By Mail)—From the windows of the cottage where this is written I can see the actual state of the front. On the left I can see the Armentieres to Lens. Below Lens, Notre Dame de Lorette and Vimy Ridge shut out the remainder of the British lines.

From the left window, on clear days, I can see the sand dunes along the seacoast. Fumes are plainly visible and beyond, with field glasses, the very windows of the Casino and Grand Hotel at Ostend are as plain as day. Shells bursting along the bathing beach, where stretches of barbed wire now run, are distinctly seen while with the naked eye I have counted not only 23 British observation balloons along the fringe of the fighting, but 11 German balloons as well.

People say "flat as a flounder." A better expression would be "flat as Flanders." For a flounder occupied very little territory. Flanders stretches away in all directions, with appalling flatness, the only relief being three or four hillocks which rise like pinacles from an otherwise smooth surface. My cottage sits on top of one of the hillocks. Below me stretches more than half of the entire British front.

The spectacle at night beats any Fourth of July celebration ever seen in the United States. And if the wind is right, the noise lays in the shade the unsafest and unsuited. Fourth Young America ever perpetrated. Flares rise against the sky like as many red and white shooting stars along the whole horizon. Here and there, in this red glow, great fountains of flame and light, of brilliant yellow, leap like sheet lightning to the very top of the heavens. These are the bursts of heavy howitzer shells. The thicker, the brighter, the smaller flares are British guns huffing steel at the foe to the east. Now and then a slow burning stab of flame leaps out and the whole world seems on fire. My room perhaps twelve miles away, is then so brightly lighted that book print is quite readable without other lighting than that furnished by Armageddon. These bright lights come from the bursting of oil drums, or boiling oil (in reality liquid fire) which the British are using to punish the originators of frightfulness. The Germans, having originated and tried every devil's device, a cruelly cunning brain could conceive, are now getting paid back in their own coin.

Sky rockets go into the air like a Payne's fireworks final, bursting into many colors. Aeroplanes, whose eternal zooming goes on in the night as well as day, add to the show dropping their "flaming onions" as their signal fires are called, and from the ground balls of fire leap into the air in answer.

Behind the German lines search-lights are playing. There are tens of them, their brilliant shafts interlacing and chiss-crossing, reaching what appears to be the dome of heaven, there splashing out like a stream of gold fluid projected from a fireman's nozzle against a lofty ceiling.

When there are clouds the effect is perhaps enhanced. The cold banks catch, and reflect the score of competing lights and colors, making the war a beautiful thing—from a distance.

Properly stage managed, my little room in this little Flemish cottage, might bring a fortune. Man's greatest spectacle keeps on and on, in a continuous performance—is blazing away for all it is worth even as I write these lines on my little typewriter—yet no amount of gold could buy a seat in this room.

Outside the window at my right I hear voices.

The two old folks who own the cottage and who let me use one of the rooms are talking.

Overhead, aeroplanes are buzzing. In the middle distance rockets are answering the "flaming onions" dropped by the war planes.

On the skyline all the fireworks in the world seem concentrated, the glow now and then making the wrinkled faces of the old man and woman stand out in the dark night.

"It's time we're gettin' in the potatoes," the old man is saying. "This rain ain't any too good for 'em s' long as they ain't in the ground."

And the old lady responded sympathetically:

"Them potato bugs are getting mighty bad too."

HOUSE IN UPROAR WHEN MEMBER CHARGES $50,000 BERNSTORFF FUND WAS USED IN THE HOUSE

Explanation Demanded Of Congressman
Heflin, Who Asserted Some Member
Might Have Been Interested In Fund

BODY DEMANDS PROOF OF CHARGE

Washington, Sept. 24.—Aroused by charges of dishonesty on the part of its members, the House today burst into heated debate following Representative Heflin's assertion that some representatives might have been interested in the Bernstorff flood fund.

Representative Norton demanded an explanation from Heflin. "You are worse than a pacifist or a traitor, you who dare to corrupt this body and create disbelief in this government," declared Norton. The House burst into applause. "If the charge should be true," said Norton, "no punishment will be too severe for the members. If it is false no apology that you can make will be sufficient. If the charge cannot be sustained nothing will win back the confidence of the people." The House burst into loud cheering. Speaker Clark hammered vigorously for order.

When Heflin started to explain a half dozen members rose to their feet with the pointed query "did you or did you not make such a statement to the press?" "I didn't make it to the press, I made it in the lobby," said Heflin. The House roared. "I said it in the lobby before some German spys. There are spys all around me here."

Representative Moore of Pennsylvania shouted "name the spys." "I didn't mean any spys on the floor. They are in the galleries."

Heflin appealed to Clark saying they were not fairly treating him.

Representative Fordney of Mich., introduced a resolution demanding that Heflin prove his charges.

SPREAD DEADLY GERMS ORDER OF TEUTONS

Our Government Hints That
Germany Has Been Trying To
Use That Method In U. S.

THE ROUMANIA CASE PROVED

By Carl D. Groat
Washington Sept. 24.—Germany will be convicted further before the end of this week is over to a charge of high handed intrigue against the peace of other nations with revelations over Sunday of Teuton bombs and poison candy being dropped in Roumania.

Government authorities hinted that it will be shown that the Teutons have been trying to spread disease in America as one of the insidious means of hampering war preparations.

The plot in Roumania shows that the Teutons planted bombs in the legation gardens at Bucharest after the United States had taken charge and also spread germs to poison horses.

Similarly the Teutons may have found the germs of lock jaw in court plaster recently found in the United States to be effective. The Senate has promised an expose of the treacherous German work to create anti-American feeling in Japan and anti-Japan feeling in this country. Count Iseki now in the United States with the Japanese mission has hinted at such an intrigue.

Harold Garner and Russell Garner of Altoona, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Gardner at their home on West Market street.

HOUTZDALE WAS MECCA FOR THE BASEBALL FAN

Sunday Game For the Soldiers'
Fund Attracts Immense But
Quiet, Orderly Crowd

BLUE LAW FINES ARE IMPOSED

That Sunday baseball would be a popular pastime in the Houtzdale region were the Pennsylvania statutes different, was thoroughly demonstrated yesterday by the immense crowds which thronged this one-time coal region metropolis to witness the exhibition game scheduled between the Pittsburgh National league team, with the grand old man of baseball, Honus Wagner, in the line-up, and a team of Houtzdale boys.

The game was arranged for by some of Houtzdale's energetic citizens as a means for providing funds for the soldiers' library and tobacco fund, and judging from the crowd which thronged the park and gave up one dollar each as an admission fee, they had the right idea, so far as the means to the end was concerned.

When the game was first advertised, following permission from the borough authorities to stage the game, some of the religiously inclined people of the community believing that six days in the week were sufficient for baseball, and that the game would result in desecration of the Sabbath day, took steps to stop it. An injunction was asked for, but Judge Bell held the subject was one for the Attorney General to pass upon on behalf of the State, rather than a problem for local authorities, and when the matter was put up to him by the District Attorney at the request of the objectors, told their attorney what was necessary in the premises from his view of the law.

The Attorney General was interviewed, but instead of getting into the case as the Court directed he should, decided the local authorities should handle the matter and deputized the District Attorney by telegraph to appear at the hearing. When the District Attorney attempted to act at the hearing, objection was made by the attorney for the promoters of the game and Judge Bell, sustaining the objection, the case fell and the game was allowed to proceed.

It was estimated by those in attendance that more than thirty-five hundred people witnessed the game, about two-thirds of that number giving up one dollar per head to get inside the park fence, while the remainder viewed it from adjoining buildings and the nearby hillsides.

The "Flying Dutchman," as Hans Wagner is known to the fans of two generations, was the main attraction, and his loyal worshippers began to arrive at the ball park at 11 o'clock a. m. in order to be sure of a sight of the great man. The game was scheduled for 3 o'clock and by that time the park was a mass of surging humanity, while almost every street in the town was lined with automobiles in which they travelled. A special train on the Allegheny River Railroad added five car loads of fans to the crowd.

The huge crowd was exceptionally quiet and orderly, not a cheer or loud word being heard inside or outside the enclosure. When the Pittsburgh team marched onto the field headed by the reliable Wagner, a subdued murmur of applause convulsed the assemblage. The teams engaged in brief practice and just before time to start arrived all hands were summoned to the centre of the diamond, where a few brief laudatory sentences. Burgess Saupp presented Wagner with a huge silver loving cup, the gift of the Houtzdale admirers of the King of the Hill. Wagner made a brief response and the cup was turned over to Paddy Quinn and Harry

Public Service Board Of State To Hear C. of C. Complaint

Public Hearing In Court House September 28th On Matter Of River Line
"Mixed Train" Service

STATION COMPLAINT ALSO TO BE AID

Patrons of the River Line mixed train service are to be afforded a means of possible relief on Friday, September 28th, at nine a. m. when the Public Service Commission of the State of Pennsylvania will sit at the Clearfield Court House to hear complaints of the Clearfield Chapter of Commerce and individuals who believe that the railroad company has unreasonably discriminated against the traveling public in the matter of taking off the regular passenger train on the River Line.

President W. I. Betts is very busy this week subpoenaing witnesses to support the claim that the service is inadequate and unreliable to those of Clearfield having interests down the river and likewise those who live in the vicinity and endure the hardships of uncertain time of arrival of trains. In addition to those on whom subpoenas are served it is desired that as many of the River Line people as possible be present at the hearing. The hearing will be open to all and while it is not yet known whether the Commission entire will be here it is certain that testimony will be taken by a Commissioner and some finding made.

The matter of a new station will also be taken up on September 28th. Separate complaints have been filed in each case and it is expected that every organization in Clearfield will be present to press our claim for a passenger station commensurate with the needs and requirements of our city.

McInteer, two former Houtzdale boys, now successful Pittsburgh business men, who accompanied the team back home, who acted as a guard of honor for the memento.

The game was started promptly at 3 o'clock and full nine innings were played, the final score being Pittsburgh 13; Houtzdale 1.

The crowd present at the game was surely cosmopolitan in character, and embraced doctors, lawyers, manufacturers, miners, mechanics, railroad men, and even editors. Almost every town and hamlet in Clearfield, Centre and Cambria counties was represented and all appeared to be enjoying themselves.

The game was played under a contract which provided that the Pittsburgh team should receive sixty per cent of the gross proceeds, while the promoters of the game received the remaining forty per cent.

The Progress is informed that after the necessary expenses are paid the total sum remaining will be turned over by the committee in charge to the soldiers' library and tobacco fund. As this committee is made up of the leading and most reliable citizens of the town there can be no question as to the truth of this statement. The managers also stated that it was their purpose to publish a detailed, itemized statement of the receipts and expenditures following their settlement. The business manager of the Pittsburgh team stated that he had three other Sunday games scheduled for as many different sections of Pennsylvania before the season closed.

The good people opposed to Sunday baseball and every other form of worldly amusement on the Lord's day propose to continue their fight against this game and two of the ministers of Houtzdale who were at the hearing in Court Saturday were at the grounds getting evidence on which to base a prosecution. They purchased tickets for the game but did not go inside, notifying the ticket seller when they bought the tickets that they intended using the transaction against them.

They made information against every man on the two teams for violation of the Sunday or old "blue law" and the fines were paid to Justice Harpster at the time of a hearing this afternoon.

We noticed in the Philadelphia papers this morning that the Athletics and a team of U. S. Marines played a Sunday game yesterday at Philadelphia before a crowd of 6000 people.

Argentine Receives German Explanation

Believe It Will Deter Southern Republic
From Declaring War

By Charles P. Stewart
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 24.—For the immediate present at least, Argentina's determination to declare war on Germany is to be held in abeyance. Government officials today accepted "as a temporary satisfaction" a message from the Berlin government disavowing Count Luxburg's utterances and denying that the Kaiser approved of Luxburg personally. The fact was emphasized, however, that this disavowal is not the full, free and formal reply demanded by the Argentine ultimatum. Its receipt, however, stops the Chamber of Deputies' immediate consideration of the government's plan for a declaration of a state of war with Germany. Public interest was transferred from the German situation today to the pressing crisis of a nation wide strike. At 1 a. m. today all railroad employees struck.

EDITORIAL

SUNDAY BASEBALL

Probably no incident in the current year has created so much interest and comment in the county as the playing of the Sunday baseball game at Houtzdale yesterday. The position of The Progress on this matter of Sunday baseball and Sunday golf was made clear less than a year ago in an editorial and we need go no further in condemning it on general principles. However, there are some features in connection with the present case which take it out of the regular category and make it a topic for special discussion.

In the first place the game was played under the guise of charity. The net proceeds are to go to the Soldiers' Tobacco Fund and the Library Fund for soldiers, but the Pittsburgh Pirates, correctly named it appears from their contract, first exact a toll of sixty per cent of the gross receipts. After they get their sixty per cent the soldiers are welcome to what is left. Does it look like charity on the part of the Pirates?

In the second place, from the remaining forty per cent of the receipts all expenses are to be paid, therefore there can be no sacrifice on the part of the local promoters. There can be no charity without sacrifice. Does it look like charity on the part of the promoters?

In the third place almost three thousand baseball fans paid a good big dollar to see a fifty cent game of baseball. No one can deny this. The game was a joke. The players made it a joke and nine chances out of ten Honus is already wondering what he is going to do with that five gallon loving cup they presented to him. No doubt the Pirates had heard of the fabulous wages being earned by the miners of the Houtzdale region and they came up here, entered into a compact with the promoters and borough officials of Houtzdale, to disregard the Sunday law of the state and play a joke of a base ball game and take over a thousand dollars of Houtzdale money back to the smoky city.

Probably there was not much harm done, but show us the man who will say that the game served any real good purpose.

POLITICAL

THE TICKET

The County Fair together with the departure of soldiers for the New National Army detracted from politics to such an extent that there are hundreds of voters in the county who do not yet know who the successful candidates are on either ticket.

The County Republican ticket is graced by John Arnold for District Attorney, W. P. Norris for Sheriff and Dr. J. L. Pellum for Coroner and all of these men won at the primaries by such large majorities that they are assured of the united support of every Republican in the county. They are the undisputed choice and selection of the majority of Republican voters. Little if any of the factional differences were apparent in the Primary election.

Republicans can, and will, unite on the straight ticket this Fall.

N. A. GUNMAN SEEN IN DEUTSCH AUTO ON PRIMARY DAY

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—A photograph of a man in a dark suit, who was seen in a Deutch automobile on primary day in New York, as having been seen with Isaac Deutch, a leader, and Eddy Abrams, a constable.

Two of the men arrested Saturday morning in New York were positively identified by Philadelphia policemen as having been members of the "murder party."

Captain of Detectives Wines, of the Bronx, believes that Ruggiero Falcone was the man who rounded up the election thugs.

The "Hotel Benny," at 159 North Ninth street, conducted by "Beany" Cutler, was the home of the Bronx "murder squad" while it operated in this city.

Special Policeman Wirtzsch, who has been commissioned by Captain Tate of the Detective Bureau, was named by ex-Judge Gordon as a member of the "gang" which on Tuesday evening raided the Finletter Club. Lieutenant Bennett was charged with standing outside the club as thugs rioted within.

A Sixth Avenue politician, James Clark, was identified as the "man with the eyeglasses," described by one of the gunmen as the man "who pointed out" James A. Carey.

The hearing in the case of Mayor Smith and others, charged with conspiracy to commit murder, has been postponed from tomorrow until Tuesday of next week.

Ministers and leading citizens are organizing to "clean up" conditions in the "Bloody Fifth" Ward. Plans are being perfected for the massing of the Academy of Music on Thursday evening. Leaders in the movement emphatically assert that they will continue the fight until the ward is purified.

From the pulpits of the First Presbyterian Church of Germantown and the Old Pine Street Presbyterian church the municipal scandal was denounced.

Assistant District Attorney Taulano and Philadelphia witnesses went to New York to establish the identification of gangsters held there for extradition this morning.

Charges of murder in the first degree are expected to be filed against two of the men under arrest today.

Mercantile Appraiser Carey was reported as in a critical condition, with a possible fracture of the skull.

LA FOLLETTE CALLED "AMERICAN UHLAN"

Wisconsin Senator, With Stone and Gronna, Classed as "Real Field Marshals of Germany"

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Senators La Follette, Stone and Gronna were characterized as the "real field marshals of Germany" by Charles Edward Russell, of New York, who spoke here last night. Mr. Russell was a member of the United States commission that recently visited Russia.

"There is an element at work now to undermine your Republic and throw victory to the enemy," he said. "At this moment, there arises a band of men who call themselves Americans, who are ready to fight on the side of autocracy; not openly, but from behind their established place in the United States Senate."

"Thursday night in St. Paul La Follette characterized such things as the sinking of the Lusitania as 'technical offenses.' Tomorrow afternoon every one of his words will be repeated on the field of Mars, in Petrograd by fifty speakers."

"They will say 'the United States wants peace. America is out of the fight. A United States Senator has said so, and it must be true. The thing for you to do is to make a separate peace with Germany.'"

"They don't know that this man this United States Senator, is simply a big yellow streak."

EXPLOSIVES AND GERMS IN GERMAN LEGATION

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—Fifty high explosive cartridges, together with fulminate of mercury fuses and percussion caps attached, are found in the garden of the German legation at Bucharest, Rumania, having been secreted while American diplomats were caring for German affairs there.

The same investigation also reveals a box of six cultures of anthrax and glanders germs, together with instructions to German agents to use them on the cattle and horses and report on the "success." Each culture is sufficient for 200 animals.

Revelation of this plot by the State Department indicates that the United States Government will conduct a "pitiless publicity" of German acts to educate the pacifist and war deities in America.

Liebold has batted only .243.

HOW A RAILROAD EARNS A DOLLAR

If a drayman charged you fifty cents for carting a ton of freight one mile from the railroad to your residence or place of business, you would not accuse the man of being extortionist in his charges and refuse to pay him unless he reduced the amount.

Knowing that a ton is quite a load, and that the drayman's expenses have increased in the same ratio as your own, you would consider his charge extremely reasonable and, perhaps, hand him an extra dime or a good deal as evidence of your satisfaction.

Now, as the freight was carted from the depot, it was evidently hauled there by the railroad, and wishing to learn how much the railroad company received from the shipment, we quickly ascertain from the company's statistics that the average rate for hauling a ton one mile is a trifle less than one-half of one cent, or the one hundredth part of what the drayman received.

For that dime which you may have given to the drayman, the railroad hauls a ton twenty miles, or further than from Rochester to Munford, for the price of a dollar but, the railroad hauls a ton two hundred miles, or from Rochester, N. Y., to DuBois, Pa.; and for the amount paid for a fifteen-dollar ready-made suit of clothes, the shipment was hauled three thousand miles, or nearly across the continent—Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railway Employees' Magazine.

A NEW VIEWPOINT.

We are largely creatures of our philosophy of life, our outlook, our habits of thought.

There is nothing so helpful as a whole and sane view. Such a view may be capable of revolutionizing one's whole life. If we are truly converted to the optimistic philosophy, if we feel that the universe is good, that we are immortal entities in this universe, that our destiny lies in our own hands, that we are free to choose the best, that there is nothing so powerful as right, that we can rest with perfect faith on the never-changing law, that there is a being of truth and love over all, if we are once truly converted to this viewpoint how much easier everything becomes.

And if we think deeply enough we shall see clearly that no other interpretation of the universe is possible.

This is the foundation of all right thinking. It is also the beginning of harmony of mind and body, of health and of success. It banishes fear. It is a cure for delusions and obsessions. It broadens and strengthens. It builds character. It puts us in right relations to our fellows. It gives us confidence and moral backbone.

There is nothing like standing on a rock foundation of principle. James A. Edgerly in Nauticus.

Quarrels.

If there happens a misunderstanding, a quarrel and these things do come to every human being, I shall face the facts and be just. I shall not childishly slam a door on an explanation. That happens in books sometimes in order to help along the plot a hundred pages or so. In life every moment of happiness counts. Our time here is so very, very short.

Careful About His Grave

A Pittsburgh man has just recently referred to a "flowerless burial plot" and gave directions for a brick and cement grave where no flowers or plants are ever to be grown. He made provision for $7 a year for watering grass, which is to be allowed on the grave, and directed that the fence about the plot be painted with a certain kind of "conium" paint, applied with a camel's brush. —Exchange.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE IN DIVORCE

vs.

EDNA SEIFERT

In the Court of Common Pleas of Clearfield County, Pennsylvania

No. 166 September Term 1917

LIBEL IN DIVORCE

To Edna Seifert:

Madam:—You are hereby notified that at a session of the above court,

I was appointed a Commissioner, to hear and take the depositions of the parties interested and their witnesses in the above cited case and report to the said Court with the form of decrees.

You might as well have the use of that building you are planning—there is nothing to be gained by waiting. There is no prospect of prices going down for some time after the war is over. Go ahead and let your contracts.

When it comes to the roof you can make a real saving, and get a better roof by specifying

Certain-teed Roofing

CERTAIN-TEED is not cheaper because the quality is lower, but because it is a less expensive roofing to manufacture. It is better, not only because it is cheaper, but also because it is lighter weight, weather-tight, clean, sanitary, fire-retardant and costs practically nothing to maintain.

It is now recognized as the preferable type of roofing for office buildings, factories, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings etc., where durability is necessary.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply).

There are many roll roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

Certain-teed Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplanting wood and slate shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire-retardant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are the best quality paint materials, ground and mixed with mechanical accuracy. Made for all uses and in all colors. With paint, as with roofing, the name CERTAIN-TEED is a guarantee of quality and satisfaction.

You will therefore observe that I will sit for the purpose of my appointment at my office, rooms No. 302 and 304, Deposit National Bank Building, in the Second ward of the City of DuBois, Clearfield County, Pennsylvania, on the 9th day of October, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, where you may attend if you desire.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER INJURED IN HEAD-ON AUTOMOBILE COLLISION

As the result of a head-on collision between two automobiles on the Reynoldsville road yesterday afternoon J. F. Powell and daughter, of Clarion, spent last evening in the DuBois hospital. Neither one was injured seriously, but both were bruised and cut and it was determined to keep them in the hospital until today. The two automobiles involved in the wreck were those belonging to H. L. McIntyre, of Reynoldsville and J. F. Powell, of Clarion.

The two machines were rounding a curve at the time and without any warning crashed into each other head-on. Both were moving at a pretty fair rate of speed at the time and Mr. Powell and his daughter, who were in the lighter car and going down hill, were thrown forward, both being cut about the face and head on the windshield. Mr. Powell sustained several severe shocks, while Mrs. Powell had a long gash cut on her face.

Both Machines were put out of commission and Mr. Powell and his daughter were hurried to the hospital in a car that came along. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, the occupants of the other car, were unharmed, although both were thrown around.

The Powells were on their way home from Clarion after a visit with relatives when the accident occurred.

APPLICATION FOR DIVORCE

John L. Perot filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office Saturday in which he asks for a divorce from his wife, Ellen Perot, alias Ellen Farley. Perot contends that his wife has one husband more than is generally allotted to one woman by the statutes of the State of Pennsylvania. He recites that he was married to the woman on March 15, 1905, but that she would not live with him. Then on July 17th, 1912, she married George W. Farley without going to the trouble of getting a divorce from Perot, hence his desire to rid himself of the matrimonial harness.
